

K-LOVE is a recent addition to the FM dial in Anchorage, AK. We've known about K-LOVE for more than a year but our first opportunity to hear it was last fall in Fairbanks, AK. We were so excited when K-LOVE began broadcasting in Anchorage in March 2004! Having K-LOVE means we always have a family-safe radio station with a good message that is suitable for listeners of all ages. K-LOVE is the primary radio station we listen to at home, at work and in the car and if it were not available, we'd be forced to listen to CDs in order to not be exposed to programs we find offensive or unsuitable.

K-LOVE has had an extremely positive effect on the Anchorage community. In fact, K-LOVE is holding their fall pledge drive and as I listen to the callers, at least every other one was from the Anchorage area. We have only one other Christian music station available in Anchorage and they recently made a change to their format that is a major factor in K-LOVE's success in Anchorage.

Keeping K-LOVE on the air by not allowing LPFM to have a priority over FM translator service is in the best interests of all Alaska and all communities throughout the US. Having the choice of positive, family-friendly, Christian music is a recent addition to the FM dial and it would be a travesty to do anything that could take that choice away.
